++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Still hot, but cooler than recently. Plenty of hazy sunshine.

Today:
Any early morning low cloud or fog quickly burning back, leading to another fine, bright day. Feeling cooler than recently, but still hot in the hazy sunshine. Small risk of a sharp afternoon shower, possibly thundery in the west. Maximum temperature 29 deg C (84 deg F).

Tonight:
A dry and fine evening. Low cloud pushes in from the east overnight, with western areas seeing the best of any clearer spells. Minimum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Saturday:
A dry start, with any low cloud soon clearing. A band of heavy and possibly thundery rain will reach southern parts later. Feeling warm, but notably cooler than recently. Maximum temperature 23 deg C (73 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Variable cloud but largely dry Sunday, and feeling warm for most. Becoming more unsettled and cooler into next week, with sunshine and showers, some of these heavy and possibly thundery.
